

3) Write an HTML script to demonstrate HTML Paragraphs.

Ans) Below is an HTML script to Demonstrate HTML Paragraphs

<!DOCTYPE html>
<html lang="en">
<head>
  <meta charset="UTF-8">
  <meta name="viewport" content="width=device-width, initial-scale=1.0">
  <title>HTML Paragraphs Demonstration</title>
</head>
<body>

  <h1>HTML Paragraphs Demonstration</h1>

  This is a simple HTML page with paragraphs. Here are a few paragraphs of text:

  <!-- Paragraphs are created using the  tag -->
  This is the first paragraph. It contains some text to illustrate the use of paragraphs in HTML.

  This is the second paragraph. More content goes here, and you can add as many paragraphs as needed.

  And here is the third paragraph. You can format text, add links, images, and other
HTML elements within paragraphs.

</body>
</html>
```

In this script:

The  (paragraph) tag is used to define paragraphs of text.

Each  tag contains a block of text, and you can have as many paragraphs as needed in your HTML document.

You can copy and paste this code into an HTML file and open it in a web browser to see the demonstration. The text within the  tags will be displayed as separate paragraphs on the webpage.

<!DOCTYPE html>
<html lang="en">
<head>
  <meta charset="UTF-8">
  <meta name="viewport" content="width=device-width, initial-scale=1.0">
  <title>HTML Paragraphs Demonstration</title>
</head>
<body>

  <h1>HTML Paragraphs Demonstration</h1>

  This is a simple HTML page with paragraphs. Here are a few paragraphs of text:

  <!-- Paragraphs are created using the  tag -->
  This is the first paragraph. It contains some text to illustrate the use of paragraphs in HTML.

  This is the second paragraph. More content goes here, and you can add as many paragraphs as needed.

  And here is the third paragraph. You can format text, add
